

Innovation sits at the heart of Bear Institute, a pediatric health information technology partnership between Children's National and Cerner.