CEO Annual Update and Discussion

From Good to Great: Embracing the Parent's Perspective

Presented by

Kurt Newman, MD

President and CEO, Children's National

Amanda Leland, MS

Parent of Children's National Patient

Senior Vice President for Oceans,

Environmental Defense Fund

As all healthcare organizations look to the future, it's vital for us to continue to focus on opportunities that will make us a more responsive family-centered organization. Dr. Newman will give insight into, and lead a discussion around the Children's National Health System of tomorrow.

Dr. Newman has invited special guest Amanda Leland, a patient's parent, to participate and share her thoughts. Diagnosed at just six weeks old with Atypical Teratoid Rhaboid Tumor or ATRT, Amanda's daughter Teagan will turn three in February thanks to many of you.

Learning Objectives:

Attendees of this session will be able to:

1. Grasp the importance of and employ cognitive empathy when interacting with patients and their parents.
2. Better recognize the coordination, communication, integration and accountability needed for complex care patients.
3. Understand the need to improve system processes throughout CNHS.
